

CONTENTS

CHAPTER I. Revelation under the Old Covenant

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. The impossibility of direct revelation | 1 |
| 2. God, in revealing Himself, adapts Himself to the capacity of man | 2 |
| 3. Revelation as mediated through signs and symbols | 5 |
| 4. Revelation as veiling and unveiling | 7 |
| 5. Christ as the Mediator of all revelation | 8 |

CHAPTER II. Revelation under the New Covenant

- | | |
|---|----|
| 1. Revelation in Jesus Christ as the self-humiliation of God | 11 |
| 2. The humanity of Jesus as the veil of God's glory and majesty | 12 |
| 3. God revealed in Jesus | 16 |
| (i) In certain aspects of His humanity | |
| (ii) In His miracles | |
| (iii) In His resurrection glory | |
| (iv) His glory discernible only through faith | |
| (v) His full glory known only hereafter | |
| 4. The Word and Sacraments as means of revelation | 21 |
| 5. The Word and Sacraments as the mirror of the glory of God | 24 |

CHAPTER III. Unity of Revelation—Unity of Substance

- | | |
|---|----|
| 1. All Old Testament revelation a participation in Christ | 27 |
| 2. True Christian experience mediated under the forms of the Old Covenant | 29 |
| 3. Revelation under the New Covenant superior to that under the Old | 32 |
| (i) More rich and full | |
| (ii) More vivid and distinct | |
| (iii) More satisfying | |
| (iv) More familiar | |
| (v) More immediately substantial | |
| (vi) More simple | |